Carry the News to Hiram.

Freedom's battle's now begun,
Carry the news to Hiram!
Half the work's already done,
Carry the news to Hiram!
Every mother's honest son,
From Plymouth Rock to Oregon,
Has breathed the Greeley armor on,
Carry the news to Hiram!

We hear corruption's dying groans,
Carry the news to Hiram!
We hear the carpet-bagger's moans;
Carry the news to Hiram!
We hear America's loud voice,
Saying, "Horace is my children's choice,
I want no Grant nor gift" Rejoice!
But Carry the news to Hiram!

Old Farmer Horace has an axe,
Carry the news to Hiram!
He lops the limbs with mighty whacks,
Carry the news to Hiram!
Oh, Hiram Sam Ulysses Grant,
Once you could, but now you can't,
Then let your uncle and your aunt
Carry the news to Hiram!

Gift-taking candidates don't pay,
Carry the news to Hiram!
For honest men they must make way,
Carry the news to Hiram!
Had Ulysses Grant been wise in time,
Had he not winked at fraud and crime,
He need not hear the truthful rhyme,
Carry the news to Hiram!

TIMM'S STRATEGY.

A STORY OF CALIFORNIA LIFE.

Mapes was chivalrous by nature; he believed in "seeking the bubble reputation, even at the cannon's mouth." His enthusiasm was aroused by the recital of stories of deeds of desperate daring; while he had nothing but contempt for even success won by crooked and indirect means. Timms, on the contrary, believed there was policy in war, and that the end justified the means, particularly if the end was attained. Companions from infancy, their lives had been spent in competition for scholastic and such other honors as the locality afforded, without even a momentary break in their friendship. But now, in early manhood, they struggled for a price of incalculable value, with an ardor that threatened a complete rupture of friendly relations. The heart and hand of Eliza Reed, the neighborhood belle, were to be won; and to these none others might aspire, in the face of such formidable competition as that of Mapes and Timms. They alone—each by virtue of his own personality and position—had a right to lay siege to the heart of that variable, irritable, imperious beauty, and for months the strife between them had gone on. Each one had called into play all his personal and social resources; for the local society had taken such an interest that it was divided into two factions, known as the Mapesites and the Timmsites. And yet Miss Eliza could not be brought to express a preference. If she rode with one to day, she was careful to walk abroad with the rival to-morrow.

Coquetry is delicious to a woman; and Eliza would not have been feminine had she been in haste to have made an election. Nevertheless, she did not intend to miss her opportunity. She knew well the war could not always last, and feared that when one of the aspirants for her favor withdrew from the contest, the love of the other, wanting the stimulus of competition, would grow cold; hence, she had made up her mind, that, upon the first favorable opportunity, she would signify to Mapes that his suit, so often pressed, was at last accepted. The opportunity, it seemed, was not to be long wanting; for invitations were given out for an apple-bee in the neighborhood, and Eliza found means to convey an intimation to Mapes that she expected to meet him there, and counted on his escort home at the conclusion of the frolic.

The appointed evening looked for with such nervous anticipation by Mapes, came at last. He felt that it was the most important of his life, and arrayed himself as only a rustic dandy can. His way lay across a meadow, through which ran—or rather loitered—a deep, but narrow stream, spanned by a single log. It was so dark when he reached this primitive bridge that he was compelled to feel his way slowly across. As he progressed it commenced to swing lightly—something very unusually—until he reached the centre, when, to his utter confusion, it gave way, and he was launched into the water. He scrambled out, then suddenly the night became luminous with that lurid light to which people refer when they say, in speaking of some profane wretch, "He swore until all was blue." Whatever illuminating qualities this lurid light possessed, it had no drying ones, and Mapes was forced to bid adieu for the night to all hopes of plighting his troth to the loved Eliza.

In the rural districts down East, in early times, the good people had such habits of industry and rigid economy that they seldom gave, or attended parties, unless such as were cloaked under the names of raisings, quiltings, huskings, or apple-bees; thus, the apple-bee, fraught with momentous consequences to Mapes and Timms, was but a social party in disguise—a few apples being pared, quartered, cored, and strung in the early evening for appearance sake.

As usual, Eliza Reed was the belle of the occasion. Good looks, entire self-possession, and a keen, satirical wit always assured her that position; and this night she shone with unusual brilliancy, until, as the hours wore away, and Mapes came not, she began to lose herself in pondering why and at length she asked Timms:

"Is your friend Mapes ailing?"

"I guess not," replied Timms; "saw him to-day. He wasn't complaining."

"He denies himself much pleasure," said Eliza, "in not coming here to-night, for this is the place where we always have a good time. Aunt Judy knows how to give an apple-bee."

"You let Mapes alone," answered Timms, "he knows what he is about."

"What do you mean?" asked Eliza.

"Oh, I mean," replied Timms, "that Mapes is the prince of good fellows, and gets invitations where the rest of us don't."

"Where is Mapes to-night?" asked Eliza, now fully aroused.

"I don't know for sure," answered Timms. "He told me to-day there were special reasons for his coming here, but that he had an invitation to the rich and aristocratic Squire Huntoon's who is celebrating his daughter's birthday, and that he didn't know which way he would go;" and Timms turned away to talk to the next prettiest girl in the room.

Petted young women are seldom logical or patient. When the party broke up, Eliza accepted Timms' escort to her home, and before they arrived there, she had consented to become, with the least possible delay, Mrs. Timms. The next morning the engagement was announced, and preparations for the wedding commenced. Timms was exultant—happy Timms!

For a few days Timms was not seen in public—perhaps for want of courage to wear his blushing honors openly; perhaps for want of courage to meet other contingencies—who knows? But a man cannot make arrangements for his own wedding from a fixed standpoint, and he was compelled to venture out. In a quiet and sequestered by-way he met Mapes. The meeting to him was a surprise, he smiled feebly, and extended his hand. But Mapes, intent on business, strode squarely up to Timms and planted a vigorous blow on one of his eyes, which caused that gentleman to measure his length in the dust. Timms sprang to his feet, and showed fight; but another blow on the other eye sent him again to grass, where he continued to lie.

"Get up," said Mapes.

"You'll knock me down again," said Timms.

"Yes," returned Mapes, "I will."

"Then I won't get up," said Timms.

"You're an infernal scoundrel," said Mapes.

"I can't help your saying so," answered Timms.

"You sawed the log," said Mapes.

"What log?" said Timms.

"You sawed the log," repeated Mapes, advancing a step.

"Yes—stop," said Timms, "I sawed the log.

"Well you needn't think," said Mapes, "that after your marriage you're going to tell that story, and make me a laughing-cock."

"I'll never speak of it," whined Timms.

"Perhaps you won't," said Mapes, "but I'm going to swear you before I get through. There's another thing: you won the woman by your trickery, and I know it is in you to abuse her; so I'm going to swear you to treat her kindly."

"I'll swear," said Timms.

"Hold up your hand," said Mapes Timms held up his hand.

"Now, repeat after me: I, Silas Timms, solemnly swear that I will never bring to the knowledge of any human being that I sawed the log whereby Daniel Mapes fell into the creek and lost a wife; and, further, that I will, she consenting, marry Eliza Reed, and always treat her kindly, so help me God."

Timms repeated the oath, verbatim.

"Now, get up and go home," said Mapes, "I don't think you'll be married till your eyes get out of mourning, and by that time I'll be far enough away. But don't think I'll lose sight of you; and if you don't keep your oath, you'll see me."

Timms arose from the ground, shook off the dust, and walked away; but when he had secured a safe distance, he shouted back exultingly:

"Mapes, she is an angel."

In twenty years Daniel Mapes had learned many things, and among them this: Life is very much as we make it. In other words, the world is like a mirror, and looks at us with the face we present. It returns scowl for scowl and smile for smile. It echoes our sobs and our laughter. To the cold, it is as icy as the northern seas; to the loving it is as balmy as the isles of the tropics. He had learned a still harder lesson; which was to forget the griefs, the sorrows, the slights, the wrongs, and the hates of the past. The effect of this lesson was to make it appear that the lines, to him, had fallen in pleasant places. His round form and firm muscle bespoke a good digestion, while a cheerful countenance told of mental peace. A fair woman named him husband, and children called him father. A beautiful home in the Santa Clara Valley was theirs; besides which, Mapes had many broad acres of land, as well as many heads of stock running nearly wild in the counties of Monterey and San Luis Obispo.

Once in each year the cattle that graze on California's thousand hills are gathered in bands at convenient places, to be claimed and branded by their owners—such assemblages being called rodeos. Mapes had been down across the Salinas Plains, in attendance upon a rodeo; and, being on his return, jogging along on his mustang, he saw, far in the distance, but nearing him, an equally lone traveler. Slowly the distance between them decreased; and as they approached, Mapes—with California prudence—slipped his revolver upon the belt which sustained it, from his back, round to his left side, bringing the hilt under the shadow of his bridle-arm, and within easy reach of his right hand. A nearer look assured Mapes that he had no occasion for weapons; the coming man was of middle age, but his look was worn, weary, dejected and hopeless—in local phrase, his manner was that of a person who has "lost his grip," and those who have met that terrible misfortune are never highway-robbers, "grip" being the very quality wanted in that hazardous pursuit.

The travelers met, with a long inquiring gaze, when from their lips simultaneously burst the words, "Mapes"—"Timms." After a moment of mute surprise, Mapes, spurring his mustang, drew nearer Timms.

"So—we meet, at last. I have been wanting to see you, this many a year."

The movement seemed ominous to Timms, and he cried out: "Don't, don't shoot! I have no weapons! Besides, I have kept my oath—at least as well as I could. I never told the reason why you didn't attend the apple bee, nor even breathed a syllable about the sawed log—upon my solemn oath!"

"I wasn't thinking of the ducking," said Mapes.

"Don't come any nearer," returned Timms. "I have always tried to use that woman well; but she wouldn't be used well. I have done my best to treat her kindly; but she wouldn't be treated kindly!"

"It is no use to go over the grounds to me, Timms."

"But," replied Timms, "you have no idea what that woman is; you wouldn't blame me if you only knew. She's brow-beat me till I ain't half a man."

"So I see," said Mapes.

"No, you don't see," replied Timms. "You don't see half. Look at this scar"—taking off his hat, and showing a long seam on his scalp; "that was done with the skillet."

"You have suffered," said Mapes.

"Suffered!" returned Timms. "You ought to have sworn her, too. If you only knew how I have thought of you, and of my oath to you; and how I have borne blows and been quiet—how I have been called a brute and a fool, and kept silent—how I have endured taunts and sneers, hunger and discomfort, without a word of reproach—you would forgive me; you wouldn't harbor thoughts of revenge."

"Thoughts of revenge!" answered Mapes "Let us dismount and have a settlement, for I see my chance has come at last."

"Mapes, would you take the life of an unarmed man?"

"Timms, you're crazy! let me explain. I have no wrongs to avenge. It isn't for vengeance that I have wanted to see you. I have heard about you often—know all your life and experiences; and I have only wanted to meet you, to offer you a home and friendship, employment and opportunities for prosperity, here in California. I owe you no debt but one of gratitude, for the inestimable service you did me by that little job of carpenter work; and that I mean to pay. Come with me." He took Timms' horse by the bridle, turned him about without remonstrance, and they travelled on in silence.

After awhile, Timms raised his eyes timidly from the ground, and said:

"Mapes, she's the devil!"—Overland Monthly.

An Editor's Trotters.

Robert Bonner's Stables—His Latest Purchases—Gossip About Famous Roadsters.

There is a widespread passion in America for the ownership of trotting horses, and in this respect Mr. Bonner, the editor of the New York Ledger, is unusually fortunate. The perfection of his stables is a matter of national comment, for, with beauty of architecture, they combine every requisite for the health and comfort of the horses. The ventilation and drainage are excellent. Every stall has a false door though which all refuse passes to a scrub floor of cement, whence it is carried into the sewers. The floor on which the horse stands is perfectly level, thus avoiding that straining of the tendons of the legs consequent upon standing on an inclined surface. The sides of the boxes are of smooth wooden panels, which present no hold for the horse to seize with his teeth, and thus prevents his acquiring the habit of biting and "cribbing." The partitions are carried high enough to prevent the horses from annoying each other; the doors are of ornamental iron work, and around the building outside is a tan-bark walk for exercising the horses in bad weather. Every appliance that could possibly reduce labor and improve the condition of the horses has been adopted.

The first horse the visitor inquires for is Dexter, undoubtedly the highest type of the American trotter. He is a brown horse, with white legs, stands fifteen and a half hands high, and is thirteen years old. His head and neck are finely formed, his eyes brilliant, his shoulders well placed, his legs and feet firm, and his back and loins powerful. For a horse of his size, his thighs are immense. It is almost unnecessary to allude to his breeding. He can be traced to imported Messenger on the sire's side, and to imported Diomed (the winter of the first English Derby) on the dam's side. He was first trained by Hiram Woodruff, and it is not a little singular that in Mr. Bonner' stable, standing in adjoining stalls, are the two horses (Dexter and Peerless) behind which Hiram Woodruff made the best time he ever made in his life, driving the former in harness and the latter to wagon in 2:23½. But Woodruff died before Dexter's speed was fully developed, though he had a premonition that even the 2:18 1-5 which he had seen him make under the saddle on the Fashion course would in time be surpassed. He was right in this expectation; 10,000 people saw Dexter trot a heat against Ethan Allen and his running mate in 2:16, although by regulation, the horse was not allowed to claim that record. It is not asserted, however, that he is entitled to the record of 2:16 as a winning record, but that it is justly his due as the time record of a public performance.

Budd Doble has stated that he drove him in 2:14½ in private, while in a public race he drove him in 2:17½, and a half mile in 1:06. Good judges believe that by far his greatest achievement was the day when Mr. Bonner drove him on the Prospect Park course, wagon and driver weighing 319½ pounds, in 2:21½—a performance which, considering the weight carried and the state of the track, was equal to 2:14. It is now four years since Mr. Bonner gave his check for $33,000 for Dexter and withdrew the horse from the turf, and there is little doubt that Dexter's speed is greater now than it was when he trotted in 2:17½ in Buffalo in the hands of Budd Doble. When Mr. Bonner purchased him it was said that he would be valueless, as he could not be driven with safety on the road. But kindness and good management produced their legitimate results, and Mr. Bonner drives him regularly on the road and through the Central park.

In the next stall stands the gray mare Peerless, a daughter of American Star and a Messenger mare. Like Dexter, she was bred in that nursery for fast horses, Orange county, and like him also was educated by Hiram Woodruff, who drove her public a mile to wagon in 2:23½—a performance which only Dexter has surpassed. Peerless has proved a failure as a brood mare, but is a favorite roadster with Mr. Bonner, who often drives her double with the veteran Lantern, the two making a fine and fast team.

Lantern comes next, and it is only the curve of the back that shows his age, for his eye is as bright and his legs as clean as on the day he trotted his famous double team match against Ethan Allen and mate fourteen years ago. Although twenty-four years old, he is still fast, and makes an elegant companion for Peerless, few being able to pass them on the road. In the next stall stands the California mare Princess, the once famous opponent of Flora Temple. She was purchased as a brood mare, to be mated with Edward Everett, the sire of Joe Elliott, Judge Fullerton and Startle, and she has long been quite lame, but it is anticipated that she will soon recover. From her union with Hambletonian sprang Happy Medium.

The stout black colt in the adjoining box is Membrino Bertie, Mr. Bonner's latest purchase. Bred by Dr. Herr, of Lexington, Kentucky. This colt astonished everybody by trotting a mile, last fall, when two years old, over the Cincinnati course, in 2:41, and repeating it in half an hour afterward in 2:43½. He has since trotted in 2:36½; but not being thoroughly acclimated Mr. Bonner does not propose hurrying him. He is a handsome colt, wonderfully developed for a three year old, and will assuredly make a fast trotter in time. The bay horse in the next box ranks higher in Mr. Bonner's esteem. This is the four year old colt Startle, by Edward Everett, which was purchased from George Alley last fall for $20,000, immediately after winning the three year old stakes, distancing his opponent, Lothair, in the fast time of 2:36½. Startle has massive, muscular quarters, indicating the possession of immense power. Perhaps no colt ever made such rapid progress in trotting speed as this horse, for when Carl Burr purchased him, in June last year, he could not beat 3:30, and in the following September he won his first race in 2:36½. Last month Mr. Bonner drove him a mile on the Fleetwood park course, on a slow track, in 2:28, and had the day and course been favorable, he could have reduced the time considerably. As Startle is only four years old, he has plenty of time for maturing and improving, and experienced judges believe that, when Dexter's time of 2:16 is surpassed, Startle is the horse destined to do it.

The bay gelding Joe Elliott next shown, trotted a heat over the Secaucus course, New Jersey, in 1869, in 2:54, his name then being Boyant Colt. Mr. Bonner paid $10,000 for him, and placed him with Carl Burr for training. A few weeks ago he made a mile on the Fleetwood course in 2:15¼. Bruno occupies the next box, and never was in more superb condition than now. Since Mr. Bonner bought him of Mr. Phyfe he has greatly improved his speed. As a four-year-old he made the best record in a public race, trotting a mile in 2:30 in a gale of wind. With his sister, Brunette, he made also the fastest double team time, having trotted a mile in 2:25½. Last on the list stands Pocahontas, the beautiful daughter of the famous pacing mare of the same name and Ethan Allen. A mare of more perfect symmetry and beauty was never foaled; her action when in motion is the perfection of trotting, combining ease, elegance, power and speed in an extraordinary degree. She has trotted only one race in public, namely, against Blackstone Belle at Boston, which she won easily. It is said an amount even larger than that paid for Dexter was paid for her. That Mr. Bonner in purchasing her was not mistaken, appears from the fact that she has since trotted a mile under saddle, ridden by John Murphy, in 2:18¼. She is an excellent team mare, and there need not be much surprise if next season she and Bruno make the best time ever made by a double team.—From the New York Tribune.

Military Candidates.

Our opponents in boasting of the military reputations of their candidates forget that in a nation like ours statesmen are more necessary than soldiers. Our normal condition is that of peace, and our geographical position is such that there is but little danger from a foreign war which a statesman President could not avoid. Republicans will admit that no general would have made a better President than Lincoln, or better war Governor than Curtin, Morton, Seymour, and Parkers, all of whom were civilians.

A President or Governor should be intimate with all the public questions of the day, and with public men. Knowledge taught in the camp and field is not available in governing by law large masses of men.

In order to keep alive the passions of the war, our opponents have gone into the military business, but it is noticeable that none but "Generals" figure on their ticket. Enlisted men were evidently regarded as unworthy of support.

Hartranft's reputation depends more upon the fact that he acted as Mrs. Surratt's hangman, than upon any exploits upon the field of battle.

Gen. Allen we have heretofore shown was a Sunday soldier, and never smelled the enemy's gun-powder. Gen. White never injured the enemy nor does he boast of any special services to the Union.

But for Gen. Albright, the newly made candidate for congressman-at-large, an extraordinary claim is made. His home organ, the coal Gazette says: "Hurrah for Albright, the soldier who put down Buckalew's Fishing Creek Rebellion." Now who is this modern Napolion that would usurp the honors of Major Gens. Couch and Cadwallader, and who lurked in the rear when brave men were fighting at the front, and whose mission was to frighten women and boys, and keep guards at the various polls of this county in order to elect his master! He bravely marched up the Fishingcreek, but met no opposition, nor did he find arms, ammunition, Confederacy, or the trace of a military encampment or earthwork. His campaign was bloodless, and infantry, cavalry, and artillery fared infinitely better than they would have done facing Lee's ragged battalions.

But let us see further on what meat this modern Cæsar diets. His claims are advanced because he was a model soldier. Dare our Radical brethren deny that "Albright entered the service as major of the 132d regiment, a nine months' organization, in 1862, and returned home as colonel. Some time after his return he issued a circular proposing to raise a one year's regiment in the valley of the Lehigh. The regiment was raised, and Albright took his men to Harrisburg.

While here he met a committee from Banks township, Carbon county, who were in search of men to fill up the quota of that township under the draft. He offered himself to the committee as a substitute, was accepted, was mustered in, and received the bounty of five hundred dollars. The records show that he was mustered in as a private in company A, 202d regiment, on the 3d of September, 1864, in pursuance of this arrangement with the committee, and was duly credited to Banks township, Carbon county.

The next day, September 4, 1864, he was mustered out as a private, and was mustered in as colonel of the regiment, in pursuance of his circular and of his understanding with Governor Curtin.

This record shows that while bent on achieving military renown and displaying his intense love of country, General Albright had a frugal mind. For one day's service as a private in camp Curtin in this city, he charged his fellow citizens of Carbon county five hundred dollars. It was in this way so much sublimated loyalty was manifested during the war. Albright was ready to enlist as a substitute, at the expense of five hundred dollars for one day to his neighbors, with the epaulets of a colonel within his grasp. A more sordid and mercenary transaction has not been recorded in the incidents of a war which revealed so much that was base and venal amid so much that was gallant, heroic and unselfish in sacrifice and achievement. There is in this act of Albright all the meanness and dishonesty of a professional bounty jumper. He took the bounty of five hundred dollars from his taxridden neighbors of Banks township, Carbon county, and was mustered in as a private when he knew that he would be appointed colonel of the regiment which he had raised with the understanding that he should command it. After pocketing the money, he "leaped the bounty" the very next day.".

In opposition to men of this stamp we have named true and tried men, who are in all respects competent to fill the positions to which they have been nominated.

Three hundred and ninety-nine millions of dollars have been stolen from the people during Grant's administration. Mr. Garfield (Republican) says the pension frauds amount to $8,000,000 annually, making in three years $24,000,000. The report of the civil service commission says that the revenue lost by smuggling and frauds amounts to one-fourth of the whole. The average annual revenues are $500,000,000—stealings one-fourth, $125,000,000, annually, making in three years $375,000,000, and swelling the amount to $899,000,000 in three years. Should the same system and management continue for the remaining year, it will swell the stealings and the cribbings of the four years of Grant's administration to the small amount of five-hundred and thirty-two millions of dollars ($532,000,000).

GENERAL N. L. JEFFERIES, who was register of the treasury under the administration of Andrew Johnson, has written an eight page pamphlet to prove that the books of the treasury department, wherein the record of the public debt is kept, have been changed so as to make it appear that a very large reduction of public debt has taken place, whereas Jefferies contends that the debt has been increased. He professes to give facts and figures from the books of the treasury department.

The Worst Yet.

There have been a great many hard things said and written of Mr. Greeley during the campaign, but Mr. Wendell Phillips of Massachusetts has written a letter to some colored men of Boston which surpasses any thing yet produced. It is positively sickening to contemplate the picture which he holds up to us of the condition of the Union after Mr. Greeley's election. Murder, torture, arson, "all shames and crimes" would instantly become as common throughout the land as the present ordinary avocations of mankind. We had always supposed Horace Greeley was rather a humane and benevolent kind of person, yet if we are to believe Mr. Phillips he is a reckless, bloodthirsty wretch, who would be the tool of traitors and would certainly send the country to the "demnition bow wows." Horace has usually been accounted a friend of the negro but Mr. Phillips says to the colored men "vote, every one of you, for Grant, as you value property, life, wife, or child. If Greeley is elected, arm, concentrate, conceal your property—but organize for defense. You will need it soon and sadly."

Now we have never thought of Wendell Phillips save as a crazy fanatic, although we really supposed he had some common sense, but we submit that when a man writes such furious nonsense as this, and so dangerous as well, he not worthy the serious attention of any but fools. Mr Phillips may be very anxious for the election of Mr. Grant but there is no reason why he should make an utter ass of himself, by such outrageous twaddle as this. His language is highly revolutionary and calculated to call forth the worst passions of the colored people, and his phillipic deserves and will meet with the scorn and contempt of all men except perhaps a few of Mr. Phillips' admirers in the neighborhood of Boston, Massachusetts.

Mr. Hamlin.

Hannibal Hamlin of Maine is a Senator of the United States and, as may perhaps be remembered, was once Vice President. The old gentleman is in a wretched state of disgust at the Greeley movement and in a speech at Bangor on the 14th of the present month gave full expression to his feelings. He made use of some really remarkable language and said among other things that, "Up to last Feburary the Democratic party had opposed every vital issue which involved the integrity of the Government for the last ten years. They've lied to us, they've met us on every battle field, political and of arms, and now they say, "Poor, weak, humble creatures we, on our knees, foegive us."

This is really news to us. We had an idea that the Democratic party were so far from being on their knees that they were standing in a very defiant attitude squarely on their legs and offering the strongest sort of resistance to Mr. Grant and such of his followers as Mr. Hannibal Hamlin. Mr. Hamlin adopted Mr. Boutwell's eloquence to the extent of declaring that "He would clasp hands with no one over the bloody chasm," and stated that the Liberal-Democratic movement was "a scramble for position" a view which as a Republican and "knowing how it was himself" he was excusable in taking. But Mr. Hamlin's views as to the result of the campaign are sanguine hear him; "It is within more than the probability that the candidate they are supporting for the Presidency don't get a single electoral vote."

This is disheartening to be sure if one only had faith in the venerable Maine man's predictions. As regards the preminent men who have forsaken Grantism he says. "We don't want your Charles Sumners nor your Carl Schurzes, and we don't want Banks—poor, miserable fellow, let him go." Now this is taking comfort with a vengance. Banks, "poor miserable fellow," must feel his life to be a burden under such scathing words. If must be a source of gratification to the Grantites to consider, as one after another of the really able men of their party leave them, that they at least are still sure of the support of Tom Murphy, Zach Chandler, Jim Nye, Boss Tweed and the Hon. Hannibal Hamlin from Maine.

AUDITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE.
HARRISBURG, March 9, 1870.

DEAR YERKES: Buy as soon as possible one hundred shares Oil Creek and Alleghany Valley Railroad, and then have my account, or rather an abstract made from my account, so that I can see the exact loss I have sustained in Oil Creek. Let me have this as soon as you conveniently can. The Attorney General has given a decision against our settlement on Oil Creek, which takes the starch right out. I don't know what to think about buying Oil Creek as a future investment. If you think well of it you may think that the chances are that it will go up, but as everything else is drooping but little can be expected from Oil Creek. What do you think of gold?

Yours, &c.,
JOHN F. HARTRANFT.

And of this one also:

AUDITOR GENERAL'S OFFICE.
HARRISBURG, December 21, 1871.

DEAR YERKES: Calhoun telegraphed me to-day for money, and I had to give a check for $8,700, which he will present to you to-morrow (22). I cannot avoid this. I met Mackey here on Monday. He went West in the afternoon, and will not return until Monday. I did not like to ask him again, but I did not think Calhoun would want any money so soon. I will see you on Saturday, and whatever you want I will do. I will meet Mackey here on Monday, and whatever is necessary I will ask him to do.

J. F. HARTRANFT.

P. S.—Will lift Calhoun's check on Saturday, and give you certificate of deposit to that amount. J. F. H.

The "Dear Yerkes" who helped Hartranft swindle the State is now in the Penitentiary for his misdeeds, and Hartranft has signed a petition for his partner's pardon. If elected he of course would let this criminal loose upon the community. How can honest men vote for such a candidate for the responsible office of Governor, where his chances for speculation would be much greater? The Sinking Fund containing millions of dollars would be at the mercy of himself and Allen, the notorious sharper who is on the ticket with him.

Of course he is; he knew what he would get for opposing Greeley. We are glad to hear of it and hope he will get the nomination, for we do not know of a man whom New Yorkers would care to lay out colder than "shoot-him-on-the-spot-Dix."

Soldiers' Convention at Harrisburg.

The following circular is addressed to the Pennsylvania soldiers who served in the late war:

DEAR SIR: The approaching crisis of our country demands again our services, not in the field, but in the civil arena. Seven years ago, by our combined efforts, rebellion was crushed. Now, our liberties are more endangered from corrupt officials, both State and national, than they were in 1861, by attempted secession. The victories we so dearly won are barren of results so long as strife and discord are fomented and indignities heaped upon a gallant, though conquered, foe by the satraps of Federal power.

The advance of Imperialism upon the States, North as well as South, has reached the city where our Independence was declared, in the form of Federal marines controlling, at the polls, the free exercise of suffrage by the citizen.

The maladministration of the affairs of our own State by its principal financial officer, appears to commend him to the special favor of the Radical managers by the attempt to elevate him to the gubernatorial chair.

We appeal to you, our former comrade, in that spirit of patrotism which you exhibited when the Union was in peril. For the unity of the nation you risked your life. Now, that the loss of liberty is imminent—now, that the Constitution is disregarded—now, that the rights of the States are ruthlessly assailed—we ask you once more to put forth your hand, and overwhelm the enemies of your country.

With this view we earnestly request that you meet us in the Hall of the House of Representatives, at Harrisburg on Wednesday, the 28th instant, at 12 o'clock M., there to organize the Democratic and Liberal Republican Soldiers of the State.

Please acknowledge receipt of this; and should you be able to attend, report and register your name and regiment, on arrival at Harrisburg, to General William McCandless, at the Bolton House.

Very respectfully,

Major-General ST. CLAIR A. MULHOLLAND,
Brigadier-General RICHARD COULTER,
Brigadier-General WILLIAM MCCANDLESS,
Brigadier-General ALFRED B. MCCALMONT,
Brigadier-General ISAAC J. WISTAR,
Colonel JOHN H. GOOD,
Major D. W. C. JAMES,
Captain CHARLES B. BROCKWAY,
N. B.—Address your answer to General Mulholland, 431½ Walnut streht, Philadelphia.

August 14, 1872.

The Traitors and the True Men.

Every Liberal Republican, according to the organs of the Office-Holders Party, is in some way a person of bad character, whose departure from the organization is matter for congratulation, and whose support of Mr. Greeley will be of no service. What a lot of disreputable men, then, the Republican party in the past must have had in its chief places! Thus:

Speaker of the House of Representatives, XXXVIIth Congress, Galusha A. Grow of Pennsylvania.

Speaker of the House of Representatives, XXXIVth Congress, and Chairman Foreign Relations Committee since, Nathaniel P. Banks of Massachusetts.

Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, United States Senate, for many years, Charles Sumner of Massachusetts.

Chairman of the Judiciary, United States Senate, for many years, Lyman Trumbull of Illinois.

Chairman of Committee on Claims, House of Representatives, ex-Gov. Austin Blair of Michigan.

Chairman of the Post-Office Committee, House of Representatives, Gen. John F. Farnsworth of Illinois.

Chairman of the Committee on Manufactures, United States Senate, ex-Gov. William Sprague of Rhode Island.

Member Foreign Relations Committee, United States Senate, and since 1860 one of the most successful and valued orators and editors of the Republican party, Maj.-Gen. Carl Schurz.

Chairman Public Lands Committee, House of Representatives, XXXVIIIth and XXXIXth Congresses, George W. Julian of Indiana, father of the Homestead bill, original and life-long Abolitionist, son-in-law of Joshua R. Giddings, and one of the fathers of the Republican party.

Chairman of the Judiciary Committee, House of Representatives, XXXVIth and XXXVIIth Congresses, John Hickman of Pennsylvania.

Governor of Illinois, and former Commander of the Fourteenth Army Corps, Gen. John M. Palmer.

Chief-Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, former Governor of Ohio, Senator, and Secretary of the Treasury, Salmon P. Chase.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, one of the Founders of the Republican party of the West, David Davis of Illinois.

Finally, of the five Free-Soil Senators who helped organize the Republican party, one is for Grant, one is taking no part in the contest, and the other three are for Greeley; of the Republican electors in the State of New York in 1868 over one-half are already declared for Greeley; of the four surviving members of Abraham Lincoln's Cabinet, three ardently support the Liberal cause. The people are asked to believe all these men traitors to Republicanism of which they have been prophets, and to the Republican party which they founded and led. They are asked to accept instead of these traitors, as the only true men now, and the rightful Republican leaders, Roscoe Conkling, Simon Cameron, O. P. Morton, Zachariah Chandler, and Matthew H. Carpenter.—Tribune.

THE Greeley papers are publishing the following;

"I am a Democrat, and when I am convinced that the war is waged to prosecute the designs of the Abolitionists, I pledge my honor as a soldier that I will carry my sword on the other side and cast my lot with that people."—Grant.

That we believe is true. Lincoln stood on the same ground.—Miner's Journal.

We are glad to see the Journal make this important admission. But it must be cold comfort to Republicans to vote for a candidate for President who declared that he would "carry his sword on the other side" "if the war was waged to carry out the designs of the Abolitionists." Their designs were carried out, but Grant reconsidered his treasonable intention.

The Washington Chronicle, official organ of Grantism, threatens clerks and other officials, in the pay of the government, that they will be summarily dealt with if they show any leaning to the reform candidate for the Presidency. And still there are Republicans who believe that the President is really in favor of civil service reform, and that government employees are freemen, who will not be interfered with in their political opinions.

Truth.

Reports from North Carolina of frauds, ballot box stuffing, repeating and tampering with the election returns, as lately conducted by Grant, the Cabinet, and other Federal office holders, brings up with emphasis what Carl Schurz said in his great speech in New York. The statement was as follows:

I may say, without exception, that never in the history of this country has the hand of the national administration been thrust into the local politics of the States with such audacity as now; never has the patronage of the public service been more recklessly and unscrupulously used to promote the interests of a faction or to further the personal aspirations of the Chief Executive.

Col. Forney says Cameron bribed himself into the Senate in 1845, and bought his election in 1846; forced on Lincoln as Secretary of War in 1861, he enriched a dozen contractors, for which he was removed by the President and censured by vote of the House; and his election to the senate in 1867 cost him $50,000. He is ignorant of everything but trickery and low intrigue, and never read a volume of Bancroft or Macauley in his life. And this man Grant put in Mr. Sumner's place on the Committee of Foreign Relations, and now runs the Republican party in Pennsylvania. And yet there are people who wonder that honest men bolt!

THE Lycoming County Democratic Convention met in Williamsport on Tuesday and made the following nominations: Congress, Henry Sherwood, by acclamation, Senator, Robert P. Allen; Constitutional Delegate, John J. Metzger, by acclamation; Assembly, Henry W. Petrikin; Register and Recorder, John F. Stevenson; Congressional Conferees, Maj. J. V. Woodward, H. H. Cummin, Esq.; Senatorial Conferees, John A. Gamble, Robert Fleming, Henry White, Joshua Taggart; Constitutional Delegate Conferees, H. C. Baird, C. A. Bowers, Francis Beeber, H. L. Dieffenbach; Representative Conferees, Samuel Wilson, Wm. E. Hepburn.

The Convention concurred in the place and time of meeting for Senatorial district conference named by Columbia county.

AT the meeting of Congress in December, 1871, there were three financial reports sent to that body, all on the same day. One was from Secretary Boutwell, one from Treasurer Spinner, and one from the Register of the Treasury Department. Secretary Boutwell says in his report that the issue of five per cents up to July 1, 1861, on account of the refunding of the loan of 1861 amount to $59,669,150; Treasurer Spinner reported that his books showed an issue of $61,238,300, while the Register of the Treasury reports an issue of $66,602,250. Now, which of these statements is correct? The affairs of the Treasury Department under Boutwell are so mixed that they are unable to tell within about seven millions of the amount of a certain class of bonds that have been issued. The tactics of the old Tweed Ring must be fully in force there.

IT is stated on what appears to be reliable authority that a fund of $5,000,000 is to be used in this State in the interest of the Administration. Of this gigantic sum $1,000,000 is to be contributed by Simon Cameron. The situation has become desperate for the Radicals and every means, honest and dishonest, is to be used to carry the State. William B. Mann at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee stated that Philadelphia would give 15,000 Radical majority, and he knows how it can be done. This of course means the repetition of the ballot box stuffing and repeating practiced at the McClure-Gray election.

THE Tribune says:

One of the puerile arguments brought against Mr. Greeley is that the people of the South cannot possibly vote for him because they are so angry with him for his so called "On to Richmond" course in the Tribune. Another is that Northern people cannot vote for him because he sympathised with the rebels all through the war.

At this rate Mr. Greeley will not get any votes at all, which will be a pity.

NEWS

Lexington, the greatest of American racehorses died in Kentucky last week, aged 22 years. His four-mile time, 7.19½ has never been equalled. There are many fine horses sired by Lexington who rank high on the turf.

The most destructive storms ever known in the Eastern States occurred last week. The number of houses, barns, public buildings, and churches struck and either injured or destroyed, especially in Massachusetts, is something wonderful, and the accounts of persons rendered insensible for hours, and in some instances permanently bewildered, are unparalleled.

A rhinoceros belonging to Warner & Co's. menagerie broke loose from its keepers, in Red Bird Ill. and killed two men, broke the arms and legs of several others, and smashed tents, cages and property to the extent of $3,000.

The new iron steamship Pennsylvania, the first of the American Steamship Line, was successfully launched, on Thursday of last week, in Philadelphia. The Ohio, the next of the line, will be launched in about two months.

Judge George G. Barnard of the Supreme Court of New York has been removed from office for numerous offences and is disqualified from hereafter holding any office of trust. He is the third Judge of the same Court who has been removed this year, Cardozo resigning to save expulsion.

The Third National Bank of Baltimore was robbed on Sunday night, the burglars effecting an entrance by cutting through the wall of an adjoining building. The bank loses $57,000 in greenbacks and National bank notes, railroad bonds to the amount of $17,000, and $1,500 in Five-twenties. The losses of individual depositors having boxes in the vault are not known, but may amount to several hundred thousand dollars.

Serious riots have occurred in Belfast, Ireland. A police station and several houses had been demolished by the rioters. The cause of the trouble is a religious one.

Several vessels having cases of yellow fever on board, have appeared in New York harbor. The citizens of Long Island and Staten Island are greatly alarmed.

Campaign Notes.

Judge Jeremiah S. Black, of this State, has written a letter in support of Greeley.

The postmaster at Wilton, Iowa, is "out" for Grant—to the extent of some $3,000 in his official accounts.

Hon. Heister Clymer was nominated for Congress on Tuesday last, from Berks County.

The Trenton Gazette, Republican authority, says "that the Greeley men in New Jersey outnumber the potato bugs, and potato bugs are thick.

Of the sixty-five republicans in Lake Mills, Wisconsin, sixty-one are Greeley men. Of the eighty one democrats, every one is for Greeley.

Judge Hancock, Chairman of the Grant Central Committee in Mississippi, repudiates Grant, and is out for Greeley.

William J. Gillingham, president of the "Republican Invincibles," of Philadelphia, has resigned and declared for Greeley.

There are twenty-five Republican papers in Pennsylvania opposing the election of the Radical candidate for Governor.

Charles Robinson, the first Free-State Governor of Kansas, is out for Greeley. The Republican break in that State has become a stampede.

The venerable Wyman Spooner, of Elkhorn, for some years Republican Lieutenant Governor of Wisconsin, is now on the electoral ticket for Greeley.

Montana has done even better than at first stated, Maginnis the Democratic candidate having been elected delegate to Congress by 464 majority.

The statement of the Times that Judge David Davis is for Grant is untrue. The Washington Patriot has authority to say he supports Mr. Greeley.

John L. Clark, of Decatur county, Iowa, has just resigned his position upon the radical state central committee, and declared himself for Horace Greeley.

Five hundred republicans of Monroe county have signed a call for a Greeley and Brown meeting at Rochester, New York.

Six hundred republicans of Steuben county New York, have signed a call for a Greeley and Brown county convention for August 20.

Mr. Brown, the republican mayor of Portland, Me., repudiates Grant and supports Greeley. He is stated to be the wealthiest man in Maine.

M. D. Estee, late Secretary of the Republican State Committee of California, addressed a large Greeley meeting in San Francisco on Wednesday evening.

The postmaster at Woodland, Wisconsin, with 179 republicans of the town, have declared for Greeley and Brown.

Colonel Jesse T. Warner, one of the Grant electors in 1868, in Nebraska, has written a letter declaring his intention of voting for Greeley and Brown.

Robert A. Lee, a colored member of the Grant Republican Committee of Nansemond County, Virginia, resigns his position in a published letter and declares for Greeley and Brown.

S. W. Moulton, formerly a republican member of congress from Illinois, having been invited by the Grant state committee to make speeches, astonished them by writing a letter stating that he supports Greeley.

A Warwick Radical lately offered to draw in his one-horse wagon all the Greeley Republicans in that village. In about ten minutes forty-six appeared and asked to "ride," when the Grantite backed out.

The Albany Argus says that it is only necessary for some obscure nonentity to proclaim himself a Democrat who can't go Greeley in order to obtain fame at a single bound. For then the frantic Grant papers will take him up and make a hero of him.

A democratic mass meeting will be held in the court house, Washington, Pennsylvania, on Tuesday evening September 3. Addresses will be delivered by Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, Hon. Montgomery Blair, Daniel Kalbfus, esq., and others.

As every man who turns from Grant to Greeley is denounced by the renominationists as a renegade or a rascal, it would be interesting to know exactly what sort of materials that party is composed of. Its members are evidently a precious set of scamps in each other's estimation.

There is more trouble among the New Hampshire Grantites. The Hon. George G. Fogg has resigned his position as editor of the Concord Statesman the Republican organ of the State, and goes for Greeley. He cannot afford to support Grant in view of the exposures made of his official misconduct.

The long talked of debate between the colored partizans of Greeley and Grant respectively, Messrs. Saunders and Garnett, came off in New York last week. As might have been expected the speech of Saunders, which was by far the better, was interrupted and spoiled by the Grantites.

John R. Davis, of Schuylkill county, a leading republican, who has been twice a candidate for important public offices on the republican county ticket, has written a letter refusing to act as a member of the republican county standing committee. He is reported to be for Greeley and Buckalew.

When Lincoln was elected President in 1864 Colonel A. K. M'Clure was chairman of the Pennsylvania republican state central committee, and when General Grant was chosen in 1868 Hon Galusha A. Grow acted in a similar capacity. It is a significant fact that both of these gentlemen are for Greeley and Brown.

At a Grant and Wilson meeting in Detroit, the 8th instant, one Greenbury Hodge, a colored orator, was sure Grant would serve four additional years to his present term, "and then, at the end of that time, they (Grantites) would gather all the soldiers and all the citizens together and declare him Emperor of this country."

Simon Ward, colored, writes to the Eufaula, Alabama, News, showing why he and his bretheren should vote for Greeley and Brown. He says: "I have studied this matter thoroughly, and have come to the conclusion that Horace Greeley has been, and is now, the best friend to the colored men in America, and that it is to him, more than to all others, we are indebted for our freedom, and I feel that should I not vote for him, I would be worse than an infidel."

There seems now every reason to believe that Tom Murphy, "Bill" Tweed, and "Jimmy" O'Brien, a sympathetic trio of New York politicians, have formed a corrupt combination to support Grant. The bargain, as understood, seems to imply that if Grant be elected, Murphy will have control of the Federal patronage in New York, Tweed's offences will be condoned and the indictments against him withdrawn, and O'Brien will be supported for Mayor of the city by the Republicans. Tweed and O'Brien, in return for this, are to help Grant in the city with Democratic votes.

MUTUAL
Fire Insurance.

The Mutual Plan guarantees to the mutually insured the greatest security for the least possible cost. The premium notes are the capital. In this no dividends are paid to the stockholders, but it is simply assessed to pay deficiencies arising after the payment of losses and expenses, which the COLUMBIA INSURANCE COMPANY, during the total 10 years of its existence, have averaged but 6½ per centum upon the premium note, being lower than the rates charged in the best of the Stock companies during the same period of time. In insuring at stock rates, the insured must pronounce to himself that he pays every year enough—1st. To form an accumulated fund for emergencies; 2d. To pay large dividends to the capital invested in the Company; 3d. Runs the risk of a "Chicago fire" coming and wiping the Company out of existence. In a Mutual Company he keeps his own reserve in hand until needed, and pays no dividend to capitalists. The mutually insured, being themselves the capitalists, look after the business, its character and its agents in all places, thus protecting each other. For Insurances or Agencies, address

SEVERAL communications have been crowded out this week. They will receive due attention.

A LITTLE son of Jeremiah Hess of East Bloomsburg, fell from a tree in Hendershott's grove on Saturday last and broke his leg.

THE public schools of the town of Bloomsburg, will open on Monday the 24 of September for a term of six months.

Montour County has instructed her Conferees for Thomas Chalfant for State Senator and B. K. Rhodes for Assembly.

A BRILLIANT meteor was seen on Tuesday night last in the heavens. It was visible but a moment as it passed across the sky with great rapidity.

WHENEVER a mortgage deed of trust or any incumbrance is made upon insured property, notice should be given to the Company; otherwise the insurance is void.

AT the Conference held in Wilhelm's Hotel in Danville, on Wednesday last, Col. John G. Freeze and John J. Metzger were chosen delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

THE D. H. & W. R. R. Co., have appealed from the decision of Judge Elwell, granting an injunction to the N. & W. Branch R. R., to the Supreme Court, commencing at Sunbury in September.

THE newly erected Church of the Evangelical Association, at Afton, Columbia County, Pa., will be dedicated to the worship of God, on Sunday, Sept. 1st, 1872, services commencing at 10 o'clock, A. M. All are respectfully invited to attend.

No they don't. They complain that he only "occasionally" visits Washington to attend to public business.

The Bloomsburg COLUMBIAN the organ of Senator Buckalew, refused to hoist the names of Greeley and Brown. "What are you going to do about it?" —Hazleton Sentinel.

The above item contains two separate and distinct falsehoods. What are you going to do about it?

MINUTE holes often occur in lead supply pipes, giving passage to fine jets of water. They may be generally closed up without sending for a plumber, by placing the square end of a nail on the hole and striking it two or three light blows with a hammer.

WATER WORKS.—Ground has been broken for the Danville Water Works, and the work goes on with energy. Mr. Krebs informs us that he expects to have the water spouting over town before Christmas. For promptness the work is in the right hands.—Independent.

THE Fifteenth Annual Session of the State Camp of the Patriotic Order of Sons of America met at Wilkes Barre on Tuesday of last week. Over 300 delegates were present. There are nearly 30,000 members of the organization in this State it is said.

WE are informed that H. B. Swope, U. S. District Attorney, will shortly make a Grant and Cameron speech in this place. We presume invitations to be present will be sent to Dr. Walton, Col. Stewart, and other Revenue reformers.

THE editor of the Pittston Comet has been arrested just for dropping a quart or so of flour paste on an itinerant organ grinder. When we contrast the lofty mission of the newspaper with the intolerable nuisance of organ grinding, we are impelled to ask "whether we are breathing the pure air of freedom or being strangled with the fetid breath of a hellish despotism?"

IT is strange that so many persons, thoughtful and intelligent men amongst them, should disregard ordinary courtesy and do violence to one of the ordinances of the town by stopping their teams on crossings. There is scarcely a day in which one or more occurrences of this kind cannot be seen on our streets. Don't do it gentlemen; it is neither politen or lawful.

SOME one having asserted that the new Academy in Berwick would not accommodate any more scholars than the old one, a zealous friend of the new building writes a letter to the Independent proving by figures that the assertion is untrue and that the new house has nearly double the capacity of the old. The better heating arrangements, greater convenience and architectural superiority are also set forth in glowing terms.

IN the proceedings of the County Convention in the COLUMBIAN last week an error occurred in stating the result of the vote for Commissioner, the name of Abner Welsh being given as having the majority of the votes cast. The figures themselves show the majority to have been given to William Lawton whose name should be in the place of Mr. Welsh's.

THE campaign in this County was fairly opened on Tuesday night last by the organization of a Buckalew Club at Light Street. George W. Jacoby was chosen President and Isaiah White Secretary. The election of permanent officers was deferred until this (Friday) night. Mr. Cooley addressed the meeting and those present enrolled themselves as members of the first campaign club in the county, for the fight of October and November next.

ON Thursday morning of last week six disguised ruffians went to the house of Newton Brown at Marcy's Station on the L. & B. R. R. a short distance above Pittston and after beating Mr. Brown in a terrible manner bound him and his wife and robbed the house. The robbers obtained $1,000 in bonds and escaped unmolested.

MR. NATHAN CREASY of Catawissa township was severely injured last week by a horse which he was harnessing. Whilst passing behind the animal to reach the harness he was kicked in the shoulder, shattering the bone and cutting and bruising the flesh. This accident will probably prevent Mr. Creasy from attending to business for some weeks.

THE New Hall block, in Oswego, N. Y., was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning. The loss is not stated.

We find the above in the Miltonian under the head of "Wit and Humor" but patient and careful reading has failed to make clear to us where the fun of the thing lies. Perhaps there was a Greeley newspaper published in the building.

THE Danville Intelligencer in speaking of the new Insane Asylum says the main buildings and wings are nearly completed, and the rear building, to be used as a boiler house, laundry, cook-house, bakery, &c., is approaching completion. The water and gas works are being pushed forward with the greatest possible speed and it is thought that the institution will be ready for the reception of patients in about three months.

IN the COLUMBIAN of last week we gave the times at which certain kinds of game could be killed, among them pheasants and rabbits. The information was obtained from the Game Law of 1869, but subsequent examination has shown that the County of Columbia was exempted from the provisions of this Law. The correct statement therefore is as follows: Pheasants may be killed from August 1st to February 1st and rabbits from October 1st to February 1st.

PROVIDENCE permitting, a Bushmeeting will begin on the evening of the 24th of Aug. There will be preaching on the ground, on Sunday, the 25th of Aug., at 10 o'clock, A. M., by Rev. G. W. Rigon, after that only in the evenings. Rev. Isaiah Batzell from Mountville Pa. and others are expected to be present during the meeting. The meeting will be held in Peter Leisenring's grove near Crossroad School House, Northumberland Co., Pa.

SIXTEEN quarts of pure milk are required to make one pound of butter, and ten quarts to make one pound of cheese. When butter is forty cents a pound and cheese eleven cents, one pound of butter equals in value sixteen quarts of milk and returns two and one-half cents per quart to the dairyman. But one pound of cheese from ten quarts of milk only gives him one and one-eleventh cents per quart for pure milk.

PRODUCE YOUR PROOF.—Beckley, with his usual lack of veracity, repeats the stale slander that the "Fishingcreek Confederacy" had one or two pieces of artillery, and that 1,500 men drilled on the Rantz farm. Every man, woman and child in this County knows this statement to be false; but it, and similar ones are manufactured for the purpose of being spread abroad. We challenge him to get a single decent Republican to make an affidavit as to the truth of this charge. In this County many of the ablest Republicans will vote for Buckalew as the best answer to the slander.

MR. ED. BLOOM, from the vicinity of Knob Mountain, visited our town on Tuesday last, with an equipage, if we may be allowed to use the term, which was unique if not elegant. The wheels of his vehicle were very small and on a framework erected on them was a chair under which were wooden springs. The animal who furnished the motive power for this home-made conveyance was a bull, in remarkably good condition and of apparently gentle disposition. Mr. Bloom, upon request, made a short speech in front of the Court House. We did not hear it but it produced much amusement in the crowd of listeners. We understood that both Mr. Bloom and the bull, were for Greeley. Bully for them!

THE Republican delegate election in Bloomsburg on Saturday brought to light a formidable resistance to the domination of the small clique which has heretofore controlled the party in this County. In one ward the bolters only failed to elect their delegates by four votes. There is no doubt of the existence of a serious and growing disaffection in the ranks of the Radicals and Messrs. Knorr, Whitmoyer, Beckley and the rest of the office holders must look to their laurels or they will find themselves ere long in the minority. These gentlemen have ruled the members of their party with a rod of iron and at last have roused the indignation of the more thoughtful and earnest to a degree that may lead to the eventual overthrow of the Administration ring.

ON Monday morning about 2 o'clock as John Webster, George Davis, Alfred Burgh, Thomas Richards, James Darrah and James Brady, were returning from their work at the Continental Colliery, owned by Messrs. Gorrell & Audenreid, whilst walking through the deep cutting on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, a little east of the Colliery formerly owned by J. M. Freck, they were fired at by a party who must have been lying in wait for them in the brushwood. All except Webster ran back to the Colliery and stayed there until morning. He ran in the direction of Centralia and was found on the side of the Railroad in the morning unable to go home, and in a critical condition from a number of wounds from shots in the abdomen and one in the breast. Mr. Davis was shot through the lung and is dangerously injured. Of the others none are seriously hurt. A ball glanced off the buckle on Darrah's belt and Richards found shoe tacks lodged in his foot. The party must have had guns and pistols loaded with balls, large shot, and shoe tacks, and from the location of the wounds it is thought they aimed at the lighted lamps on the workmen's heads, being on the bank above them. The assailants are unknown and still at large.

The Office Holders' Convention.

The annual gathering of this body of patriots met at the Court House on last Monday to ratify the cut and dried programme laid out by Beckley, Knorr & Co. Not half the county was represented and out of 2000 voters not 200 attended the delegate elections. The delegates were mainly self constituted. Among them we noticed U. S. Assessor S. Knorr, who was general manager, assisted by the Rev. Postmaster Beckley. A. Mr. Brown, son of a postmaster, presided. Abram Rice, the Beaver postmaster, was prominent and was ably seconded by Assistant Assessor McCollum. Neither Stewart nor Walton sat near him. L. T. Thompson, former Revenue Gauger, Richard Stiles, former Assistant Assessor, John Hartman, perpetual candidate for anything, C. G. Jackson, ex-candidate for Legislature, Dr. Vanderslice, same, Elisha Hayman, U. S. Census taker, were among the delegates. Nor must we omit our friend Abbott, also at one time candidate for Legislature, but who was so ruthlessly struck by Knorr, Whitmoyer, McCollum et al.

Elisha Hayman and Robt. Howell were selected as Judicial conferees, without instructions. The congressional conferees were instructed to support Dr. Strawbridge, of Danville.

H. G. Creveling was nominated for Assembly, beating John Hartman, who does not seem to be a favorite of the ring. L. T. Thompson and K. C. Ent were made Senatorial conferees. The convention also instructed in favor of Michael Whitmoyer as delegate to the Constitutional convention. R. H. Ringler was nominated for Prothonotary, Mattie Monroe for Register and Recorder, and John Staley for Commissioner. John Eggert, whowas promised a Legislative nomination was let up on Auditor.

The resolutions approve of Hartranft's stealing and Allen's blackmailing, and they are declared "fit representatives of the Republican party," which is undoubtedly true.

And then the thing ended. Several people in town would have called in had they known a convention was being held, but we assure them they would have seen nothing new; the same delegates and same managers as heretofore run the machine.

IN pursuance of a Resolution of the Democratic County Convention the members of the Standing Committee met in this town on Saturday August 17th.

On motion, David Lowenberg was duly elected Chairman and W. C. McKinney Secretary of the Committee for the ensuing year.

John G. Quick moved that there be as many members of the Vigilance Committee appointed from each township which was agreed to. There was then appointed the following

Arrangements were made for the organization of Campaign Clubs and in futherance of the plans the Chairman appointed Tuesday evening Aug. 20th for a meeting at Light Street and Wednesday evening Aug. 21st for a meeting in Buckhorn.

The Committee then adjourned to meet on Tuesday September 3d, at one o'clock, in Bloomsburg.

The members of the Vigilance Committee are desired to meet as soon as possible to decide upon the time and place to hold meetings in their respective townships and to notify the Chairman of the County Committee of their decisions, in order that speakers may be in attendance.

THE Democratic Convention of Sullivan county met on Tuesday August 13th in Laporte and organized by the election of the following officers; President, Hon. Richard Bedford; Vice Presidents, William Colley and Fred. Taylor, Secretary, Michael Meylert.

The name of Amos Little was presented by a substitution of Patrick Jordan. Martin Jordan also presented a substitution from Patrick Jordan and on the question being submitted to the convention which should be admitted as a delegate, Mr. Jackson called upon his friends to vote for Amos Little and Mr. Deegan called upon his to vote for Martin Jordan. The ayes and noes were called and resulted as follows; 19 votes for Amos Little and 9 for Martin Jordan, where upon Mr. Little took his seat. At this stage of the proceedings Mr. Deegan called upon his friends to leave the convention with him which they did.

The following resolution was then offered by M. Meylert.

Resolved, That Geo. D. Jackson is our choice for Senator for this Senatorial District, to be elected at the ensuing election. We hereby nominate him as a candidate for that office with power to appoint the Senatorial conferees equal in number to those appointed by any other county in this Senatorial district; which was unanimously adopted.

C. C. Finch and Lyman B. Speaker was appointed Judiciary Conferees and instructed to support Hon. Wm. Elwell for President Judge of this Judicial District.

The following resolution was then offered by Geo. D. Jackson.

Resolved, That Michael Meylert and Richard Bedford are hereby appointed Congressional conferees to meet similar conferees on the part of the other counties in this Congressional District to nominate a candidate for Congress. And while we have a preference for the nomination of Hon. R. R. Little of Wyoming county, we leave it to the discretion of the conferees; which resolution was unanimously adopted.

Representative conferees were appointed and instructed to support Lyman B. Speaker.

All do not know that lemons sprinkled with loaf-sugar almost completely allay feverish thirst. They are invaluable in the sick room. Invalids affected with feverishness can safely consume two or three lemons a day. A lemon or two thus taken at "tea-time" is recommended as an entire substitute for the ordinary supper of summer, and will often induce a comfortable sleep through the night, and give a good appetite for breakfast.

Hints to the Idle.

In no great popular movement have the people displayed more intelligence, discipline, and self-dependence, than in the present campaign. Still, it is evident from numerous communications that many persons stand idle, waiting to know how they can do more than cast their individual votes. For such we offer some suggestions toward effective work:

I. Endeavor to increase the circulation of the newspapers published in your respective locality. There is no better campaign document than the local newspaper. Be it large or small, if it is heartily devoted to the popular cause it will necessarily contain incitements to earnest, resolute action in the appeals and arguments it presents in successive numbers. However apathetic or hostile a voter may be, he will not, if he is open to honest conviction, resist the influence of the facts published, between this and November, in any one paper devoted to National Reform. Whoever, therefore, adds a single name to the subscription list of such a paper, has laid the basis of an ever-widening circle of effective aid to the popular cause.

II. Circulate campaign documents. Several of these have already been published and have borne good fruit wherever they have been distributed. It is probable that "Senator Sumner's Speech," one of the most effective publications of the campaign, has been read by 5,000,000 of our people, and as its impeachment has never been answered, it continues to lead every one intent on voting wisely and patriotically into the Liberal ranks. The same is true in a measure of the "proceedings of the National Convention," containing Senator Schurz's masterly address, and of "Mr. Greeley's Record" which shows the statesmanlike policy he advocated at the close of the civil war, and the defiant attitude he held when the principles of justice and the securities afforded by the constitution were imperilled.

III. Organize Clubs. Be your number ten or ten hundred, your power for good will be redoubled when you resolve yourselves into an organized body. Your club will form the nucleus of an organization which in a movement like the present must daily expand, and be an effective barrier against the intrigues and terrorism of office-holders. Each club should appoint appropriate committees; make a list of all the voters in its district; canvass each one thoroughly and hold public meetings at convenient times. It should encourage fraternity among those who have differed in the past, not alone by candid professions, but by stimulating cordial, hearty intercourse; in a word, it should be incessant in all branches of political action, relying mainly upon its own strength, until victory will crown its efforts in November.

"This is a country worth fighting for," and if the people only exercise the vigilance and display the organization which the occasion demands, they cannot be overborne, were corruption twice as strong and audacious.

U. S. PARCEL POST.—According to the new U. S. Postal law, which went into operation on July 1st, packages of dry goods, hardware, drugs (except liquid drugs) and other merchandise not exceeding twelve ounces in weight, can be mailed to any part of the United States at a charge of two cents for each two ounces or fraction of two ounces. Under this law, the post-office authorities will forward a twelve-ounce package to San Francisco for twelve cents, whereas the express companies demand at least twenty-five cents for the transportation of a package, however small, for any distance. As a familiar illustration of the benefits of this new parcel post, a pair of dress boots, if neither boot weighs over twelve ounces, may be wrapped up in two separate packages, and be sent to San Francisco for twenty-four cents, whereas the express companies would charge for transportation to the same point as much as the goods are worth. The new system has not as yet been taken advantage of by the public to such an extent as to make it remunerative to the Government, but it is believed that when the parcel post becomes more generally known it will prove profitable to the Government as well as beneficial to individuals.

STAINS.—If you have been picking or handling any acid fruit and have stained your hands, wash them in clear water, wipe them lightly and while they are yet moist strike a match and shut your hands around it so as to catch the smoke, and the stain will disappear. If you have stained your muslin or gingham dress, or white pants, with berries, before wetting the cloth with anything else, pour boiling water through the stains and they will disappear. Before fruit juice dries it can often be removed by cold water, using a sponge or towel, if necessary. Rubbing the finger with the inside of the parings of apples, will remove most of the stain caused by paring. Ink also, if it be washed out or sopped up from the carpet with cold water immediately when it is spilled, can be almost entirely removed.

LOOK OUT FOR THE SCAMP.—Chief of Police Knapp is in receipt of a letter from a gentleman at Roaring Branch, Pa., warning the public against a swindler calling himself J. G. Saxon, pretending to be a Mason, Odd Fellow, and Knight of Pythias. He is traveling on the "make" and obtaining sums of money by representing himself as a postoffice detective. He borrows the money and promises to return it within twenty-four hours. When the time is up he isn't there. He is of medium height, sandy hair, heavy moustache and has lost his right arm, but wears a false one with a glove on the hand, dark coat and pants, white duck vest Leghorn hat. He also carried a linen duster. When he left there he obtained about $1,500 of two parties. Look out for him.—Elmira Gazette.

DURING a thunder storm at Sunbury on Tuesday of last week, the City Hotel was struck by lightning and the proprietor, Mr. Drumheller, was knocked down by the shock, but, fortunately, escaped without serious injury. A son of Mr. Charles Garringer was knocked off from a wagon and stunned, and one of the two horses which he was driving was instantly killed and the other somewhat singed. The same discharge of electricity struck a fence near by shivering it.

To Neutralize Offensiveness.

In many forms we use disinfecting agents. Impure breath, caused by bad teeth, tobacco, spirits, or catarrh, is neutralized by SOZODONT. 'Tis a healthful beautifier, and a great luxury as a dentrifice. The repulsive breath is by its use rendered as fragrant as a rose, and coldness by friends or lovers will be no longer noticed.

BLESSINGS BRIGHTEN AS THEY TAKE THEIR FLIGHT. The chief of blessings is good health, without which nothing is worth the having. It is always appreciated at its true value after it is lost, but, too often, not before. Live properly, and correct ailments before they become seated. For diseases of the liver, kidneys, skin, stomach, and all arising from impure or sickly blood, Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS are a sure and speedy remedy. It has never yet failed in a single instance. 29nov1

TALK AT THE TOILET.—Every lady's maid knows that the bewitching beings who pave their triumphant way with conquered hearts, regard a splendid head of hair as the most effective of all womanly fascinations. They believe, and they are right, that they can lure as many beaux with the luxuriant ringlets and glossy braids as they can "kill at sight" with their beaming eyes. Hence in their "toilet talk" among themselves and with their attendants, the merits of preparations for the hair are freely canvassed, and the latest result of this discussion seems to be the almost universal adoption of LYON'S KATHAIRON as an article better adapted to promote the growth and beauty of the "Chief Glory of Woman" than any other at present before the world. They say that without irritating the skin of the head it eradicates dandruff, and that it penetrates below the surface to the roots of the hair, endowing them with new life and vigor. n7-1w1

PERHAPS no real medicine ever gained the rapid popularity which Castoria has done. One person relates their experience or its good effects to another. It is a vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take; does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and is sure to operate when all other remedies failed. Any person who has ever used Castoria for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Croup, Flatulency, Worms, Piles, or deranged Liver, will never again use nauseating Oil, Bitter Pills or Narcotic Syrups. The Castoria contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. By its soothing, relieving effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children. It costs but 25 cents, and one bottle will save many dollars in doctors' bills. 3m1 dw

A PERILOUS SEASON.—Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, and requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is especially adapted to this purpose. A general invigoration is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and antibilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered both by the people and the profession, the unbound specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the consolidation created by the equable, searching power and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to palm upon the people. Your name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels. m7-1w1

Important Testimony!

The following letters are among the many we are constantly receiving from persons who have been cured by

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic,
AND
Schenck's Mandrake Pills,

Penn Grove, Salem County, New Jersey.
FEBRUARY 27, 1872.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by the offering of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

Consumption, and being hereditary in my family, master its merciless hold on me, and I daily died of it in all its stages. My mother and three sisters died of it, the latter two at the ages of 27 and 30 years.

I was, when about 21 years, seized with liver complaint, and then with dyspepsia, and then with Consumption. I was compelled to relinquish my employment (that of a blacksmith), and employed skillful and eminent physicians, and after having a patient's position, but without success, so that my friends were sure that there was no hope of my recovery, for I was reduced from 150 pounds to 90, and was not able to do anything without assistance.

My wife and I now look upon me as a Providential interposition, I having used only your remedies, and I have my self under your treatment, and so rapid and thorough was my recovery, that it seemed as though some superhuman power was at work, and surely I am as sound as a new dollar during my life. I weigh 182 pounds, am 36 years old, and for some time have been regularly attending to my business, adding fair to live to a good old age.

I am thankful to you beyond expression for having placed me in a position wherein I am a benefit instead of a burden to my family.

Your Mandrake Pills are the only medicine I ever use now. I think they are the best in the world.

I can refer you to hundreds of my neighbors who will verify all I have written, and any information any of my fellow citizens may desire of me freely and cheerfully given, upon receipt of stamp, by Yours, etc.

JOHN C. HEWITT.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 19, 1872.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. cor. Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Dear Sir—Please forward, per first steamer, six bottles Sea Weed Tonic and twelve bottles Pulmonic Syrup.

Your medicines are of such value that I cannot be without them in my household, and find not no family should be without them.

I have given them a fair test, and openly declare them to be even better than you claim.

Very respectfully yours, etc.
W. A. WHITEHURST.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4, 1872.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK.

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in awarding to you this certificate of the wonderful cure your Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic produced. My throat and bronchial tubes were so highly inflamed that it was almost impossible for me to swallow my food.

I went on a visit to my uncle, Mr. Charles Johnson, No. 912 Federal street, who says your medicines raised him from almost death after all other means had failed, and he having, therefore, the confidence in them of a true cure, recommended me to try them. I did so, and in one week from the time I commenced taking them my throat was in a very great change for the better, so that I could eat my meals without any difficulty or pain. I can scarcely find words to express my gratitude for the early relief your valuable medicines produced upon me, and I deem it but an act of gratitude to give you the acknowledgment of my appreciation. Yours respectfully,
RACHEL M. JACOBS.
No. 16 West Thirty-third street, New York.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SEA WEED TONIC,
and MANDRAKE PILLS,

These are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Dr. Schenck has been in constant practice over thirty years continually examining lungs, and knows his medicines properly taken, will cure Consumption. His Mandrake Pills cleanse the liver and stomach; his Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, stimulates the coating of the stomach, and makes it digest. His Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter, and nature throws it off without any exertion.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1.50 per bottle, or $7 00 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

Agricultural.

What is High Farming.

It is a system of tillage and farm management that is self-sustaining, a system that takes nothing but the bare land, the domestic animals, the farm implements and machinery, and cultivates the soil, sustains the family and the animals, pays the annual taxes, defrays the expenses incident to the improvement that must be made on the farm, cancels the annual interests on the money invested in the land, eventually pays for the land, all from the product of the soil cultivated; and after one, two and three decades of years, leaves every acre in a far better state of fertility than the soil was at the beginning. This is high farming. There are untold numbers of quiet, unobtrusive tillers of the soil in many of our States who have commenced precisely as we have indicated, without one dollar of cash capital; who have no revenue whatever besides the natural resources of their cultivated fields, and who by hard work and judicious management sustained their families, paid for their land, erected all their buildings, paid for all their valuable improvements, and at the same time have brought their land up to that state of productiveness, by their judicious management, that every acre now yields from two to three tons of hay where only one was originally gathered, and they harvest nearly two bushels—in many instances more than two—of cereal grain, where the product was but one bushel. That is high farming. Yet such a system of husbandry is usually sneered at simply because the proprietor knew how to save his money to defray the expenses of improvements, rather than spend three times more than he made.—New York Observer.

CARE OF HORSES' LEGS.—Few men who handle horses give attention to the feet and legs. Especially is this the case on farms. Much time is spent of a morning in rubbing, brushing and smoothing the hair on the sides and hips, but at no time are the feet examined and properly cared for. Now, be it known, that the feet of a horse require more care than the body. They need ten times as much, for in one respect they are almost the entire horse. All the grooming that can be done won't avail anything if the horse is forced to stand where his feet will be filthy. In this case the feet will become disordered, and then the legs will get badly out of fix; and with bad feet and bad legs, there is not much else of the horse fit for anything. Stable prisons generally are terribly severe on the feet and legs of horses; and unless these buildings can afford a dry room, where a horse can walk around, lie down, or roll over, they are not half so healthy and comfortable to the horse as the pasture, and should be avoided by all good hostlers in the country.—North British Agriculturist.

PLOWING TWICE FOR WHEAT.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette writes:

If any one will break his ground deeply and thoroughly two or three times during the Spring and Summer the extra amount of wheat per acre will pay for plowing, and leave a handsome profit besides. I have tested this practice several times, with the most satisfactory results. In 1869 I had a field of 16 acres of like fertility. I expected to plant half of the field in corn, but for some reason I did not. In the half that had been plowed for corn after the ground had been broke, the weeds grew more rapidly. Consequently I broke it again the 20th of June. On the 1st of September following I plowed the entire field, and sowed in wheat. The result was as follows: The half which had only received a single plowing yielded per acre 13 bushels and 18 pounds; the half that received three breakings yielded per acre 23 bushels and 40 pounds, which made a difference of more than 18 bushels per acre. At one dollar per bushel this would pay for the extra plowing, and leave a net extra profit of six dollars per acre besides.

GAPES IN CHICKENS.—Having noticed recently in different poultry papers a discussion on the cause and cure of gapes in chickens, I thought it might be of value to give my views to the "fraternity." For several years I have lost a great many young chickens by this complaint. I now am sure I have arrived at the cause, and to prevent it is easy. In the first place, nothing that you can give in food will afford relief, after the gapes makes its appearance; therefore, prevention is the only hope. Nearly every one is aware that it is caused by worms in the windpipe, which fasten themselves on like a leech, and finally strangle the chicken to death. I contend that this worm is caused by the larger species of the louse, that lay their young in the chicken's mouth. Like the maggot from the blow fly, that begins at once to crawl, so the gape-worm finds its way into the opening of the chicken's windpipe. One thing I know, if you will keep lice off the small chickens you will have no gapes. As soon as I take off the brood I put a small quantity of carbolic soap, in solution, under the wings and on the breast of the hen; this applied once a week will keep them all right. The above is from actual experience and observation with my own fowls, and if it will be of service to any that have been as badly troubled as I have been, it will be worth publishing and a trial.—John L. Black, Poultry Bulletin.

STIR THE SURFACE.—It does not follow that although we have plenty of rain, the soil will remain moist. Evaporation is very active beneath the Summer suns. Heavy showers tend to compact the soil and render it impervious to water which remains on the surface until evaporated. Little benefit, then, accrues, unless the hard crust baked by the sun is broken up and the soil mellowed by cultivation. It is then rendered porous and absorbent and is less inclined to give up its moisture at the demand of the scorching heat, while at night, cooling more rapidly than the air, it re-condenses and retakes in abundance the moisture it has been forced to give up during the day. Thus the crop never suffers during a succeeding drouth, for the soil is always in condition to supply its needs from the atmosphere when denied a supply from the clouds.

Young Folks.

The Leap-Frog.

BY HANS ANDERSON.

A Flea, a Grasshopper, and a Leap-frog once wanted to see which could jump highest; and they invited the whole world, and every body else besides who chose to come, to see the festival. Three famous jumpers were they, as every one would say, when they all met together in the room.

"I will give my daughter to him who jumps highest," exclaimed the King; "for it is not so amusing where there is no prize to jump for."

The Flea was the first to step forward. He had exquisite manners, and bowed to the company on all sides; for he had noble blood, and was, moreover, accustomed to the society of man alone; and that makes a difference.

Then came the Grasshopper. He was considerably heavier, but he was well mannered, and wore a green uniform, which he had by right of birth; he said, moreover, that he belonged to a very ancient Egyptian family, and that in the house where he then was, he was thought much of. The fact was, he had been just brought out of the fields, and put in a pasteboard house, three stories high, all made of court cards, with the colored side inwards; and doors and windows cut out of the Queen of Hearts. "I sing so well," said he, "that sixteen native grasshoppers who have chirped from infancy, and yet got no house built of cards to live in, grew thinner than they were before for sheer vexation when they heard me."

It was thus that the Flea and the Grasshopper gave an account of themselves, and thought they were quite good enough to marry a Princess.

The Leap-frog said nothing; but people gave it as their opinion, that he therefore thought the more; and when the house-dog snuffed at him with his nose, he confessed the Leap-frog was of good family. The old councillor, who had had three orders given him to make him hold his tongue, asserted that the Leap-frog was a prophet; for that one could see on his back, if there would be a severe or mild winter, and that was what one could not see even on the back of the man who writes the almanac.

"I say nothing, it is true," exclaimed the King; "but I have my own opinion, notwithstanding."

Now the trial was to take place. The Flea jumped so high that no one could see where he went to; so they all asserted he had not jumped at all; and that was dishonorable.

The Grasshopper jumped only half as high; but he leaped into the King's face, who said that was ill-mannered.

The Leap-frog stood still for a long time lost in thought; it was believed at last he would not jump at all.

"I only hope he is not unwell," said the house-dog; when, pop! he made a jump all on one side into the lap of the Princess, who was sitting on a little golden stool close by.

Hereupon the King said, "There is nothing above my daughter; therefore to bound up to her is the highest jump that could be made; but for this, one must possess understanding, and the Leap-frog has shown that he has understanding. He is brave and intellectual."

And so he won the Princess.

"It is all the same to me," said the Flea; "she may have the old Leap-frog, for all I care; I jumped the highest; but in this world merit seldom meets its reward. A fine exterior is what people look at now-a-days."

The Flea then went into foreign service, where, it is said he was killed.

The Grasshopper sat without on a green bank, and reflected on worldly things; and he said too, "Yes a fine exterior is everything—a fine exterior is what people care about." And then he began chirping his peculiar melancholy song from which we have taken this history; and which may, very possibly, be all untrue, although it does stand here printed in black and white.

From Father to Son.

One day a young man entered a merchant's office in Boston, and with a pale and care-worn face said:

Sir, I am in need of help. I have been unable to meet certain payments, because certain parties have not done as they agreed to by me, and I would like to have $1,000. I came to you because you were a friend to my father, and might be a friend to me."

"Come in," said the old merchant, "come in and have a glass of wine."

"No," said the young man, "I don't drink."

"Have a cigar then?"

"No, I never smoke."

"Well," said the old gentleman, "I would like to accommodate you, but I don't think I can."

"Very well," said the young man as he was about to leave the room, "I thought perhaps you might. Good day sir."

"Hold on," said the merchant, "you don't drink?"

"No."

"Nor smoke?"

"No."

"Nor gamble, nor anything of that kind?"

"No, sir, I am superintendent of the Sunday-school."

"Well," said the merchant, "you shall have it, and three times the amount if you wish. Your father let me have five thousand dollars once and asked me the same questions. He trusted me, and I will trust you. No thanks—I owe it to you for your father's trust.

A WORTHY parson who had, as worthy parsons often do, become baldheaded, thinking it no harm to assist nature in her tonsorial operations, procured a wig. His old-fashioned congregation was greatly exercised thereby. Some thought it very worldly for a parson to wear a wig at all, while some thought the shape "horrid." Others thought the hair should be shorter in front, some at the sides, and some behind. Finally the good pastor invited the brethren and sisters to meet him at the parsonage. When they were assembled he handed his wig to them to trim according to their taste. One clipped it here, another there, and another in a different place, until the poor wig looked like anything but a head of hair. When handed back to the parson he examined it carefully and then gravely said: "Brethren and sisters, we may safely worship this, for it is the likeness of nothing in the heavens above, on the earth beneath or the waters under the earth."

STRONG AND PURE RICH BLOOD—INCREASE OF FLESH AND WEIGHT—HEALTHY SKIN AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION SECURED TO ALL.

SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT,

HAS MADE THE MOST ASTONISHING CURES; SO QUICK, SO RAPID ARE THE CHANGES THE BLOOD UNDERGOES UNDER THE INFLUENCE OF THIS TRULY WONDERFUL MEDICINE, THAT

Every Day an Increase in Flesh and Weight is Seen and Felt.

THE GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER.

Every drop of the SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT communicates through the Blood, Sweat, Urine, and other fluids and juices of the system, the virtues of life, for it repairs the waste of the body with new and sound material. Scrofula, Syphilis, Consumption, Glandular disease, Ulcers in the Throat, Mesenteric Disease, Tumors in the Glands and other parts of the system, Sore Eyes, Strumous Discharges from the Ears, and the worst forms of Skin diseases, Ringworm, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Sore Legs, Blotches, Eruptions, Acne, Rose Spots, Worms in the Flesh, Tumors, Cancers, and all weakening and painful discharges, Night Sweats, Loss of Sperm, and all wastes of the life principle, are within the curative range of this wonderful remedy, and a few days' use will prove to any person using it for either of these forms of disease its wonderful power over them.

If the patient, daily becoming reduced by the wastes and decomposition that is continually progressing, succeeds in arresting the waste, and the food taken builds up new tissue, (and this is the way health is restored) you will be WELL and does secure.

RADWAY'S SARSAPARILLIAN RESOLVENT cures all chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the blood, or a vitiated condition, whether Mercurial, Scrofulous, Constitutional, and Skin diseases; but it is the only positive cure for

Kidney & Bladder Complaints,

Urinary, and Womb diseases, Gravel, Diabetes, Dropsy, Incontinence of Water, Incontinence of Urine, Bright's Disease, Albuminous, and in all cases where there are brickdust deposits, or the water is thick, cloudy, mixed with substances like the white of eggs, or threads like white silk, or there is a morbid, dark, bilious appearance, and white bone-dust deposit, or the patient complains of a pricking, burning sensation when passing water, and pain in the Small of the Back and along the Loins.

Price, $1.00.

Tumor of 12 Years' Growth Cured by Radway's Resolvent.

BUTLER, Mass., July 19, 1869.

DR. RADWAY—I have had ovarian tumor in the ovaries and bowels. All the doctors said "there was no help for it." I tried everything that was recommended, but nothing helped me. I saw your Resolvent, and thought I would try it, but had no faith in it. But, as I had used up everything else, I thought I would try your Resolvent and your Ready Relief, and two bottles of your Ready Relief and three bottles of your Resolvent cured me entirely. I have not had a sign of tumor to be seen or felt, and I feel sound, comfort, and happier than I have for twenty years. The tumor began in the left side of the bowels, over the groin, and the doctors got into the breast and others. You can publish it if you choose.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets

SIZE OF PELLETS.

Or Sugar-Coated, Concentrated, Root and Herbal Juice, Anti-Bilious Granules. THE "LITTLE GIANT" CATHARTIC, or Multum in Parvo Physic.

The novelty of modern Medical, Chemical and Pharmaceutical Science. No use of any longer taking the large, repulsive and nauseous pills, composed of cheap, crude, and bulky ingredients, when we can by a careful application of chemical science, extract all the cathartic and other medicinal properties from the most valuable roots and herbs, and concentrate them into a minute Granule, scarcely larger than a mustard seed, that can be readily swallowed by those of the most sensitive delicate and fastidious taste. Each little Purgative Pellet represents, in a most concentrated form, as much cathartic power as is embodied in any of the large pills found for sale in the drug shops. From their wonderful cathartic power, in proportion to their size, people who have not tried them are apt to suppose that they are harsh or drastic in effect, but such is not at all the case, the different active medicinal principles of which they are composed being so harmonized and modified, one by the others, as to produce a most searching and thorough, yet gently and kindly operating cathartic.

$500 Reward is hereby offered by the proprietor of these Pellets, to any chemist who, upon analysis, will find in them any admixture of other forms of mercury or any other mineral poison.

Being entirely vegetable, no particular care is required while using them. They operate without disturbance to the constitution, diet, or occupation. For Earache, Deafness, Dizziness, Constipation, Impure Blood, Pain in the Shoulders, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in mouth, Bilious attacks, Pain in region of Kidneys, Intermittent Fever, Disturbed feeling about the stomach, Rush of Blood to the Head, Hight Colored Urine, Unsociability and Gloomy Forebodings, take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets. In explanation of the remedial power of my Purgative Pellets over so many varieties of disease, I will simply say that their action upon the animal economy is universal, not a gland or tissue escaping their sanative impress. Age does not impair them; their sugar-coating and being enclosed in glass bottles preserve their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable, which is not the case with the pills found in the drug stores, put up in cheap wood or paste-board boxes. Recollect that for all diseases where a Laxative, Alterative or Purgative is indicated, these little Pellets will give the most perfect satisfaction to all who use them.

Do not allow any druggist to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good as my Pellets because he reckons a larger profit on that which he recommends. If your druggist cannot supply them, send 25 cents and four postage stamps and have them by return mail from of all the newest and most fashionable styles well and carefully made and of the best materials.

An inspection of their work is asked as it is believed that none superior can be found in the country jan 1'71

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. In their cure these Bitters have no equal, and even a trifling case will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Chronic, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, and in Bilious Diseases.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worm, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurf, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

One bottle in such cases will be found worth a thousand dollars to any sufferer. No Patent Medicine can be taken by the sick and afflicted with more implicit confidence than Walker's Vinegar Bitters. Possessing the Purest and most Exhilarating Stimulant ever used in connection with Medicinal Roots, the stock of health and strength imparted by their use is immediately realized.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when, and the health of the system will follow.

Walker's Vinegar Bitters are the great Blood Purifier and a Life-Giving Principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of Walker's Vinegar Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a mild Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious Diseases.

THE QUEEN

THE AMERICAN

BUTTON-HOLE OVERSEAMING

AND COMPLETE SEWING MACHINE.

The first and only BUTTON-HOLE AND SEWING MACHINE combined that has made its advent in this or any other country.

Family Machine to Purchase.

1. Because it will do everything that any machine can do, sewing from the finest to the coarsest material, hemming, felling, cording, braiding, binding, gathering and sewing on, at the same time running, quilting, etc., better than any other machine.

2. Because it can work a beautiful button-hole, making as fine a pearl as by the hand.

3. Because it will embroider over the edge, making a rich and beautiful border on any garment.

4. Because it will work a beautiful eyelet hole.

5. Because it can do over-hand seaming, by which sheets, pillow cases and the like are sewed over and over.

6. Because the best mechanical pronounces it the best finished and made on the best principle of any machine manufactured.—It has no springs to break; nothing to get out of order.

7. Because it is two machines in one. A BUTTON-HOLE Worker and Sewing Machine combined.

☞ No other Machine can accomplish the kind of sewing stated in Nos. 2, 3, 4, and 5.

Parties using a family sewing machine want a WHOLE MACHINE, one with all the improvements.

It is to last a LIFETIME, and therefore one is wanted that will do the most work, and do it the best; and this machine can do several kinds of sewing not done on ANY OTHER MACHINE, besides doing every kind that all others can do

The American or Plain Sewing Machine.

(Without the button-hole parts), does all that is done on the combination except button-hole and over-seaming.
